

Friday, May 11. 2007

Low gravity over Canada vestige of Ice Age, still affects climate - The Daily News

Low gravity over Canada vestige of Ice Age, still affects climate

The Daily News, Canada -8 hours ago

Study co-author Mark Tamisiea said the ice field that began creeping down from the Arctic over the Canadian landscape 20000 years ago was so thick and ...

Posted by Arctic News in Arctic News at 07:45